

PROJECT MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP FACT SHEET

TARGET AUDIENCE

- One-Day Session - Managers who want to know how to better oversee projects/staff.
- Two-Day Session - Individuals who are new to project management, managers who want exposure to the processes and reporting tools, colleagues who are tangential to project leaders/owners/managers and upstream/downstream contributors.
- Five-Day Session - Project Managers or aspiring PMs who are looking for an in-depth overview of all project management processes, tools, and activities in a hands-on workshop setting.

DIFFERENTIATOR

- We offer PDUs for anyone looking for PMI certification/recertification
- The content is industry-focused - not generic. We can build scenarios focused on your industry/company using your language, roles, etc.
- In addition to core elements of project management, competencies such as decision-making, problem-solving, negotiating, influencing without authority, managing within a matrix organization, and change management are included.
- Our courses can be taught in person, hybrid, or virtual.
- The two-day and five-day sessions are very interactive.
- All templates are provided.

"If you want a super basic intro to PM with generic cases, then $400 pp open enrollment is probably an ok way to go, but the difference with our program is that in 5 days you get a much deeper, more practical, customized program. If you end up putting 20 people through each class, then it only ends up costing ~$550 pp -- so essentially for $150 pp you get a much more robust solution for your org that is 10X more valuable to them back on the job"
